

Communication to our Customers,

Safic-Alcan develops its products portfolio with surfactants and polyether polyols from Arkema

Paris-La Défense, April 1st, 2021 - Safic-Alcan, a global specialty chemicals distributor, is pleased to announce the new partnerships with Arkema for the distribution of its surfactants in France and also specialty polyether polyols in Austria, Belgium, France, Germany, Ireland, Netherlands and United-Kingdom.

Safic-Alcan is enhancing its strategy to build a strong and Durable Link with its partners. These two product ranges are also reinforcing its objective to develop a sustainability-advantaged products portfolio.

- Arkema and Safic-Alcan have confirmed their intention to finalize a distribution agreement for its specialty polyether polyol range DIANOL® and ADIANSOL® for various polyurethane applications. Concerned product lines can be used in adhesives improving adhesion properties on different substrates, in several CASE applications balancing hardness, curing time and stability, in rigid spray foam applications and others.
- In addition, while Arkema and Safic-Alcan are under finalization of their distribution agreement covering France for its surfactant portfolio, the French team is already taking over the business from today. Part of this business is the promotion of the biobased nonionic surfactant range Sensio™, dedicated to all types of home and professional care formulations where the following properties are required: degreasing, soil removal, wetting, solubilizing, hydrotrope, low foaming, foaming preservation.

“We are delighted with the extension of our partnership with the business unit surfactants and polyether polyols of Arkema. It allows us to provide high-quality, responsible and innovative solutions to our customers in total synergy with our existing portfolio” said Yann Lissillour, Managing Director Group, CASE and Industrial specialties, for Safic-Alcan.
